Synopsis

This web-workshop will give you the skills and practice to maximise your verbal and non-verbal communication for most effective online presentations.

Outline:

The course will cover:

- Understanding that everything is connected and how face, hands and body affects the voice
- Vocal involvement and emotional engagement
- Power of the pause and chunking information for maximum retention
- Content and structure for engagement and memorability
- Performance skills to appear spontaneous

Our web-workshops are run using the Zoom platform and feature a high proportion of interactivity utilising breakout rooms, whiteboards, polling and chat to recreate the environment of our normal workshops as much as we possibly can in this virtual world.
